

Marie-France Carriere

Marie-France Carriere a self-educated ceramic artist, has turned clay for now 7 years in her workshop in Montreal.

Marie-France began making ceramics in Quebec, her birthplace. What was in at the beginning a hobby quickly become a passion.

Inspired by Europe, Marie-France Career creates a variety of objects as well utility as decorative for the kitchen. Plates for the services of olives, cheese-boards, casseroles for the furnace, bottles for oils and vinegars, her popular butter Breton and her 'any dernière' creation for poaching eggs.

Her creations are both hand turned and hand painted.
