

Jolly Aningmiuq

Jolly Aningmiuq was born near the famous Cape Dorset stone quarry (Kangitukutaq), in a camp called Kalusiqviq. His father also carved as do his two older brothers. His first carving at age twelve was a seal. Nowadays he works more with human figures, though his favourite subjects are still animals.

He prefers working in the Kangitukutaq stone best, and starts with a powertool, always finishing with manual tools to have a better polished piece.

He is a well respected artist, working mostly on commission pieces.
